

PRESSEMITTEILUNG

#BADRUTTSCULINARY: The Countdown is on IGNIV by Andreas Caminada@Badrutt's Palace opens its doors on 21st December 2016

ST. MORITZ, November 2016 – In just over a month it will be time: on 21st December 2016 guests can enjoy the Fine-Dining-Sharing-Experience at Badrutt's Palace Hotel in St. Moritz. Preparations are in full swing in the former Le Relais! The crew is ready!

Andreas Caminada's signature will be unmistakable and just as prominent in the second »IGNIV« in Badrutt's Palace Hotel, even though he will remain working on site at Schauenstein Schloss Restaurant Hotel. The focus here will also be on the exquisite taste of fine dining, on the Fine Dining Sharing concept as well as on spending time together in a relaxed, laid back atmosphere.

»There will be the so-called »IGNIV Signature Dishes« which we will serve to guests in both Bad Ragaz and St. Moritz. In addition there will be some new Sharing Dishes, created especially for St. Moritz«, explains Andreas Caminada.

Patricia Urquiola is once again responsible for the unique cosy nest atmosphere. The Spanish architect and interior designer was called upon again to provide the former Le Relais restaurant with the required cosy nest feel. With her unique sense of space and textiles she has achieved a very clear feeling of security, which completely reflects what a cosy nest is all about. Despite the soft touch her style is instantly recognisable. Such as the dining room being flanked by two relaxed lounges so that guests can enjoy the sharing atmosphere both before and after eating. The existing bar is being turned into a kitchen so that guests can watch the chefs live preparing their dishes. The colour palette has also changed. Both the logo and the interior have taken on new fitting hues.

The Crew is ready

The greatest care was taken in selecting the 18-strong crew to feed the guests every evening. In order to meet the growing demand there will also be two sittings, called »double seating«. At the helm is head chef Marcel Skibba. He is currently the sous chef at Schauenstein Schloss Restaurant Hotel and during the winter months he will take over control at »IGNIV« in Badrutt's Palace Hotel, along with restaurant manager Sylvie Kämpf.
