

BADRUTT'S PALACE
ST. MORITZ SWITZERLAND

Middle Eastern specialities in Badrutt's Palace Hotel

1001 nights in St. Moritz: from 13th July – 5th August 2018 Syrian guest chef Bahzad Mohamad Barafi whisks Badrutt's Palace Hotel's guests off to the culinary world of the Middle East and presents exceptional Arabian delicacies daily in Le Grand Hall.

This summer guests of the traditional hotel in St. Moritz can expect a culinary journey to far flung lands. Over three weeks Arabian specialities can be enjoyed in Le Grand Hall, the living room of St. Moritz, as well as in the garden restaurant Mezzeh, and others. Badrutt's Palace Hotel is thrilled to be able to offer its guests one of the finest culinary experiences with the internationally acclaimed Syrian guest chef Mohammed Barafi.

Mohammed Barafi already began his culinary journey at a young age when he discovered his passion for food. His career started directly after he finished school in Damascus. Mohammed cooked in luxury hotels and famous restaurants in Damascus, Abu Dhabi, Malaysia, Kuwait and lastly in Dubai. In Dubai he was part of the opening team at the Burj al Arab, among others. For the last seventeen years he has been specialising in high end events and has had the honour of cooking for royal families of the United Arab Emirates.

Mohammed believes in the philosophy of using the freshest ingredients, keeping food simple and giving dishes a small twist which will create something unique and memorable for the guests. His excellent knowledge and experience have led him all over the world to train and make culinary discoveries. In addition to these many successes he also trained professional chefs how to prepare Arabian food at the Jumeirah International both in Switzerland and in London.

From 13th July to 5th August 2018 guests at Badrutt's Palace Hotel will be treated to Chef Mohammed Barafi's many varied meze. On offer will be the classics such as houmous, fattoush and tabbolueh as well as further specialities which will be made with Arabian spices and ingredients.
